

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE

THE sale of the first portion of the library of the late Robert Hoe by the Anderson Auction Company in nineteen sessions, afternoons and evenings, April 24 to May 5, 1911, was the most notable event in the entire history of book-auctions. The catalogue, in two volumes, described 3538 lots and the total sum realized was $997,363.50. Had it not been for the fact that one book, imperfectly described, was withdrawn from the sale the total would have reached a million dollars.

The portion sold comprised only about one-fourth of Mr. Hoe's magnificent library, although this first portion included a larger selection of the most valuable books. No other library ever dispersed at auction has achieved a sum approaching the total paid for the first part alone of the Hoe library. The Sunderland library removed from Blenheim Palace, sold by Puttick and Simpson from 1881 to 1883, comprised 13,858 lots and brought a total of £65,581 6s. William Beckford's library, sold by Sotheby, Wilkinson and Hodge in 1882 and 1883, comprised 9837 lots and brought a total of £73,551 18s. More recently Lord Ashburnham's library, sold in 1897 and 1898 by Sotheby, Wilkinson and Hodge, contained 4075 lots and brought a total of £62,712 7s. 6d. To this sum should be added the Ashburnham manuscripts, sold in 1891, 628 lots bringing £33,217 6s. 1d., making a total for the collection sold at auction of £95,929 14s. This is the highest previous record of any library sold at public sale.

New records of price, if not always of value, were made on hundreds if not thousands of books. For more than a quarter of a century the record price at auction for a printed book has been the £4950 paid by Mr. Quaritch for the 1459 Mainz psalter at the Syston Park sale in December, 1884. In the Hoe sale on April 24, $50,000 was paid for a copy of the first book ever printed, the 42 line Bible in two volumes, printed at Mainz by Gutenberg and Fust between 1450 and 1455. This was one of the few known copies of the book printed upon vellum and elaborately illuminated by hand, and was the only copy on vellum which has been sold at auction within recent years. It brought £3400 at the Henry Perkins sale in June, 1873, and £4000 at the Ashburnham sale in June, 1897. Two leaves were in facsimile.

Another book, printed upon paper and without illumination, surpassed the old record price of 1884. This was a copy of the first edition printed by William Caxton in 1485 of Sir Thomas Malory's "Le Morte d'Arthur," for which $42,800 was paid by Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan, thus adding another to his unsurpassed collection of books printed by Caxton. This copy of King Arthur was first sold, so far as records show, at the sale of the books of Dr. Francis Bernard in 1698, when it brought 8s. It later passed into the library of Robert Harley, Earl of Oxford, who had it bound. In 1743 Thomas Osborne, the bookseller, purchased the Harleian library and sold this Caxton to Bryan Fairfax. At the sale of the Earl of Jersey's collection in May, 1885, it brought £1925. The only other copy known (the Spencer-Rylands copy) has 12 leaves in facsimile.

Another unique book, notable for its high price, was the copy of "The History of the noble Helyas, Knyght of the Swanne" printed on vellum in London, by Wynkyn de Worde in 1512, and the only known copy. This identical copy sold at Christie's in July, 1899, for £410. At the Hoe sale it brought $21,000.

Many of Mr. Hoe's books had appeared in the auction rooms of England or America before, and hundreds of cases of remarkable advances in price might be here enumerated. The following will, however, suffice.

The copy of the first edition of the Book of St. Albans, 1486, which sold for £385 in the Ashburnham sale in June, 1897, and since rebound by Mr. Hoe, brought $12,000.

William Blake's "Milton: A Poem," 1804, the identical copy which brought £230 in the Beckford sale in June, 1882, sold for $9,000.

William Cullen Bryant's first book "The Embargo, or Sketches of the Times: a Satire," 1808, which had sold for $17 in the Hoffman sale in March, 1877, and again for $41.50 in the Hawkins sale in March, 1887, here brought $3350.

John Winthrop's "Declaration of former Passages and Proceedings betwixt the English and the Narrowgansets," a pamphlet of four leaves, printed at Cambridge, Massachusetts by Stephen Daye, in 1645, brought $10,000. The only other record at auction is that of the Brinley copy which sold for $215 in March, 1879.

The first Aldine edition of Petrarch, "Le Cose volgari," 1501, printed on vellum, Cardinal Pietro Bembo's copy, which had sold for £300 in the Hopetoun sale in February, 1889, and again in July, 1894 for £165 brought $4100.

Boethius's "De Consolatione Philosophiæ" in Latin and Flemish, Ghent, 1485, the copy which brought £52 at the Syston-Park sale in 1884, and $145 at the Ives sale in 1891, sold for $4900, and was bought by a Paris bookseller. This is perhaps the most spectacular advance in price on any book in the sale.

Hakluyt's "Voyages" (1599-1600), with the exceedingly rare map by Edward Wright, engraved by Molyneux, in its first state, the copy which sold for $225 in the Ives sale, but which had previously brought £131 in 1881, now sold for $3400. Only three other copies are known in America.

There is ample warrant for any wealthy collector paying exceedingly high prices for such books as those enumerated above. These books are of such extreme rarity that another opportunity to purchase can hardly be expected to occur again for many years. Many books, however, in the Hoe library, not of great rarity and which frequently come upon the market, brought proportionately high prices. For this reason many of the records in the present volume are misleading and as a guide to the market value of the books in question are entirely unreliable.

Aside from the Hoe sale the season was not especially notable, although frequent sales have been held by all of the four auction houses. The season began by the sale on October 4, 5, and 6 of Part I of the library of James S. Greene by the Merwin-Clayton Sales Co. Part II of the library was sold October 18 and 19. Of the numerous collections dispersed by this house the following are the more notable: the library of John B. Dunbar, sold in three parts, October 25, 26, and 27; November 21 and 22, and December 8; the angling collection of the late James L. High, of Chicago, including many editions beginning with the first (1653) of the "Compleat Angler" sold February 6, 7, and 8; the library of John La Farge, mainly books on the fine arts, sold February 20, 21, and 22; the library of L. M. Powers of Haverhill, Massachusetts, including a very long series of first editions, mainly inscribed copies of the books of Samuel L. Clemens, but with first editions of many other modern English and American authors, sold April 4, 5, 6, and 7; the library of Charles A. Greene of Summit, New Jersey, sold in two parts, June 7 and 8, and 12 and 13; a selection from the library of Edward Everett Hale, sold June 19 and 20; and two selections of duplicates from the New York Public Library, mainly Americana, sold February 3, and February 17.

The Anderson Auction Company began their season with the sale on October 10, of the library of Charles D. Peters. After the Hoe library, the most important offering of collectors' books made during the season was the library of Judge Jacob Klein of St. Louis, Missouri, Part I, February 9 and 10, and Part II, February 15 and 16. The series of first editions of Swinburne was the most extensive ever offered at auction either in England or America. It began with the copy of the college magazine, "Undergraduate Papers," to which Swinburne was a contributor. This brought $1650. This copy sold for a few shillings in a bundle at Sotheby, Wilkinson and Hodge's a few years ago, and after passing through the hands of two or three booksellers it reached Judge Klein, costing him $500. The series of George Meredith, Robert Louis Stevenson and Bret Harte were also especially notable. Included also were several important manuscripts by Bret Harte, William Morris, Swinburne and other writers. A selection from the library of Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain), including manuscripts of several of his printed books, was sold February 7 and 8. The most important books of his library were given to the Public Library of Redding, Connecticut, or retained by the family, and the books sold were few of them of much interest as books. Each volume contained a certificate of Albert Bigelow Paine (Mr. Clemens's executor), and with a few exceptions they contained autograph signature or manuscript notes by Clemens or had inserted fragments of manuscript.

Among other sales held by them the following may be mentioned: The library of Alexander Herzog, sold October 26, 27, and 28; a collection of books relating to the North West Territory brought together by John Waddle of Chillicothe, Ohio, sold November 1 and 2; the library of Charles W. Carpenter, sold November 3 and 4; books relating to the fine arts from the library of Edwin Babcock Holden, sold November 9; books on Natural History brought together by Mrs. H. A. Hammond-Smith, sold November 10 and 11; the library of George Bentham, notable for its collection by and about James McNeil Whistler, sold November 28 and 29; the library of Alonzo W. Porter, sold December 1 and 2; and the library of Edmund Clarence Stedman, Part I sold January 12 and 13; Part II, January 19 and 20, and Part III, January 24 and 25, notable for the large number of presentation copies of the books of authors contemporary with Stedman, American and English, and for many interesting autograph letters.

In Boston, Messrs. Libbie and Company opened their season October 19 and 20 by the sale of a portion of the library of the late William Plumer, former Governor of New Hampshire. On November 15, 16, and 17 they dispersed the libraries of the Hon. Edward Everett and his son Dr. William Everett. Included was William Everett's copy of the first edition (1663-1661) of Eliot's Indian Bible. Early voyages, state histories, books on natural history, various editions of the classics, etc., made up the library. Other libraries sold by them during the season were those of A. E. Chase of Portland, Maine, sold November 30 and Dec. 1; Frederick P. Richardson of Salem, Massachusetts, sold January 10; Dr. I. T. Talbot of Boston, sold February 23 and 24; George A. Clough of Boston, sold March 22 and 23; Eugene Engley of Colorado sold April 11 and 12; Henry A. Stearns of Pawtucket, Rhode Island, sold May 12; and Julius L. Brown of Atlanta, Georgia, sold June 7 and 8.

In Philadelphia, Mr. Stan. V. Henkels opened his season with a sale of a miscellaneous collection on October 21. This was followed on November 11 and 12 by the sale of the important collection of Americana brought together by William Fisher Lewis, including several Indian treaties printed by Benjamin Franklin, books on the early history of Pennsylvania, rare Bradford imprints, etc. Other notable libraries sold under his auspices were those of Henry T. Coates, sold December 9 and 10; A. S. Whiton, chiefly first editions of nineteenth century English authors, sold February 17 and 18; Charles Steigerwalt including a long series of eulogies on Abraham Lincoln, sold March 20 and 21; and Benjamin Franklin Haddock, mainly first editions of nineteenth century English and American authors, sold April 18 and 19. On December 20 he sold important historical autographs and manuscripts from the papers of Patrick Henry, and on January 31 a selection of autographs and documents from the collection of Charles Steigerwalt.

The present volume of American Book-Prices Current records only 13,626 lots selected from upwards of 109,000 described in the auction catalogues. This is considerably less than have appeared in the records of the more recent volumes.

The following scheme of the record is reprinted from the earlier volumes:

The name of the author (or, in the case of anonymous books, the first words of the title) are set in black faced capitals.

Club or Press publications are (generally) under the Club or Press, and a few other books, such as anonymous histories and biographies, are entered under their subject. The titles of the various works of an author, printed in black faced lower case type, are arranged in alphabetical order. This is followed by the place where printed, the printer (in a few cases), the date, and the size of the volume. The first portion of the description is general and applies to all copies of the work. Following this general description is the specific description of the copy or copies of the book as sold, each lot beginning a new line. This specific description is made up as follows:

First. A description of the binding, the abbreviations being those which are universally used and understood.

Second. A statement as to the condition of the particular copy recorded, if on large paper, if with extra plates inserted, if from a famous library, etc.

Third. The name of the sale where the name was given on the catalogue. This does not mean in every case that the name as given is that of the owner of the book, as additions from other unannounced sources are often included with books of a known owner.

Fourth. Capital letter, indicating the name of the auctioneer under whose management the sale took place.

A. is the Anderson Auction Company.

H. is Stan. V. Henkels.

L. is Charles F. Libbie & Company.

M. is the Merwin-Clayton Sales Company.

Fifth. The date of sale. In case of sales of more than a single day's duration this date is that of the first day of the sale.

Sixth. The lot number in the original sale catalogue.

Seventh. The price realized. This is the price for the lot, not per volume.
